

SHE'S THE

ONE

Behind the scenes

Everything is photographed on a film day. Behind the scenes are captured by stills to raise awareness of the show on social media and other marketing platforms. From actors studying lines to lighting setup and the buffet lunches. It is an extravagant flurry of fashion, actors, cars and cameras.

This day was no different for the intro shot of the second season of She's the One, hosted by Edgars.

A long day on Nelson Mandela bridge, which was closed for the shooting of the event. The shooting setup started at 10 am and ended at 7 pm. The contestants were not to be photographed, as their identities were to be secret until the show aired on 15 Sep 2015 on e.tv.

Filming was slow and only started around 4 pm, with the director waiting for the Johannesburg skyline to light up.

Meeting celebrity Nico Panagio, and watching the pros do their thing made for an overall fun day with loads of laughter and a relaxed atmosphere. This was a great experience for me and I truly learned a lot from a photography point of view in terms of lighting and dramatising an image through perspective. I can only thank Samantha Feher for making the opportunity possible.
